McGraw Now in Search of Capable Utility Players to Reenforce the Great Team Constructed Last Fall

GIANTS IN NEED OF NEW PLAYERS

, Youngsters to Have Big Opportunity With McGraw's Team Next Spring.

THORPE MAY BE BACK

By SHORTSTOP.

Despite that on paper the 1917 Giants ook as though they will walk right through the National League, there seems to be more chance for young play ers making the team next spring than

There is not a vacancy on the regular sound which is in doubt, unless it be in the pitching department. Burns, Kauff and Robertson are certain to start the season in the outfield, while few managers would feel blue if an infield congers would feel blue if an infield congisting of Zimmerman, Fletcher, Herzog and Holke was dropped into a Christmas stocking. McCarty and Rariden will do the bulk of the catching, while the pitching staff will again be built around Schupp, Sallee, Benton, Tesreau, Perritt and possibly Anderson.

It wouldn't seem as though there was much of a chance for a youngster to
